The deepening of that is you invest in your level of certainty. And what I mean by that is that when you are unshakeable in your growth, in your expansion, in your teachings, in your learning and your willingness to get better and better, when you are certain of that, how you show up in this world changes radically.

Hello. Hello. Hello, you gorgeous human beings! It is Suzy Ashworth and you are listening to the limitless life experience podcast! And I am really, really happy to be behind the mic. I feel like I have got just so much incredible stuff that I desire to share with you. Some of it is going to be long. Some of it'll be short form. Not that it matters. Everything is going to be super potent and super magical. I mean, that's not actually a word, but I think that you probably got the, I was saying magic. I've also got some very, very exciting guests lined up for you. That is all I'm gonna say. Mmmm! I'm keeping it zipped! But you wanna keep it tuned because honestly, I just know I've got some incredible, incredible conversations happening. So, I have just been delivering the second round of Magic Money.

If you have not invested in that program, you are very silly. I literally talk you through how I have taken my income from 23 to 29,000 pound months to my biggest month that I had in 2019 to how I created a multi-million pound company. All of the mindset hacks, the energetic expansion and evolution, the business model choices that I made, the mentorship choices that I made... like literally everything. And then I talk you through how I'm going to do my next lot of recordings once I've doubled my income again and 300,000 pound months are my norm. One, it's just an amazing program. It actually might be my most favorite program ever. I've got a feeling, don't hold me to this, I've got a feeling that there is going to be a fully live round at some point, I think, but there have been some gems that honestly I'd forgotten about.

There have been some gems in that program that I almost felt that I had grown beyond, or maybe it's not even that I had just not needed to utilise as much because there was a certain level of momentum in my business that carried me through. And as I look to step into that next level, you know, going from multiple millions to multiple, multiple, multiple millions, I realise that some of that foundational work that I did is absolutely paramount. And I wanna speak to you about the most important thing, the most important thing that you are going to learn to master as you expand your wealth consciousness and the impact that your business has in the world. And that is certainty. In the past I've talked about certainty from a sales perspective. And I've talked about the fact that if you feel wobbly about your offer, if you feel wobbly about the transformation, if you feel at all uncertain about what it is that you are selling or the value of what it is that you are selling, whether it is at the forefront of your communications, or just energetically, something is off your potential, dreamboat clients will feel it.

\(05:06\):

And I've talked about the fact that people invest in your level of certainty. That still holds true. And the deepening of that is you invest in your level of certainty. And what I mean by that is that when you are unshakeable in what you know, in what is coming, in what you are doing in who you are being, in your evolution, in your growth, in your expansion, in your teachings, in your learning and your willingness to get better and better and better and better and better when you are certain of that, how you show up in this world changes radically. And what I saw in Magic Money was a woman who was so certain that her business was going to hit seven figures in 2020, that not even a pandemic could stop her, not even a pandemic could stop her tripling her income. Not even a pandemic when—she not even sitting there at 20,000 pounds for the month, 24,000 pounds for the month could stop her thinking that it was totally normal and reasonable for her to expect to be doing on average 83,333 pounds a month.

\(06:36\):

I mean, I was laughing in the program with the Magic Money people. Just saying that the audacity of me, how dare I, how dare I be that certain? And that's my invitation for you. What do you want? I'm not talking about this month or next month. I sat there with Bob Pope and no hope, according to my numbers in July, 2019, despite running a money program where I'm sharing the secrets of how to have a 53,000 pound month, cuz that's what happened the month before. But despite that, and me not being able to repeat it, at least the following month, I knew that I was a millionaire in the making. And I think probably the biggest distinction there is that actually I was no longer a millionaire in the making. I was a millionaire. And that's where I spoke and acted from like every day.

\(07:35\):

And do I think that I had wobbles? Yeah, I do. And that was not about whether I was capable of hitting a million or not. It wasn't about that. That had been decided. I was certain about that. You know, when you are certain about something, you make a different type of decision. You're able to step back from logical fear, fear about safety, fear about survival. And you are able to make those big, bold money moves. And you know that when I talk about that, we're talking emotionally and spiritually as well as financially, but you're able to make bigger, bolder moves without thinking, oh my God, this is the last, this is the last chance saloon. You're never coming in it from that space. You're like, this is the next step in my journey to telling the story of how I hit a million that's who I was back in 2019, when it didn't make sense.

\(08:45\):

And so my question for you, remembering that you get to start now, it doesn't matter how you felt five minutes ago. It doesn't matter how you felt yesterday. It doesn't matter whether you are having a great month or the worst month of your life. You get to start now like this moment in time, should you choose it to be, gets to be the moment that you can turn around to your community, your family, your children, and say, I was listening to Suzy Ashworth, talking on a podcast about the level of certainty she had when she hit a million. And she invited me to get certain about what my bigger vision was for myself. And I don't know what it was, but there was something about the way that she said the thing. There was something about the way she said the thing that in that moment I decided,

and I knew that there was no turning back. It was done. Can this be that moment for you right now? If it is, I invite you to drop me a DM on Instagram or over it in The Quantum Success Hub. And let me know what it is that you've decided. I am so excited to hear what it is that you have to say and what it is that you have to share and who it is you have decided to become. Woo. Okay. My friend, I will see you for the next episode. And in the meantime, please remember that faith plus action equals miracles.
