00:30

Hello, Hello, Hello you gorgeous human being, I am really excited to bring it to you this next episode of the infinite receiving podcast where we are going to be diving deep into what it means to really live into the idea of infinite potential.

00:51

So if there were a hierarchy of principles when it comes to living the infinite receiving lifestyle, this would be principle number one. And what I mean by infinite potential is just knowing, not thinking not wishing, not hoping but knowing at the depth of your bones that everything is possible.

01:14

Now, what happens when I talk about this is I tend to get one of two responses. The first response is from the person who does know this, but has forgotten and they're living their life from a place of limitation or they have been, and then they hear me say everything is possible. And it's like, oh my goodness, how did I forget that given the right context, and a little bit of universal magic, that everything of course, everything is possible for me.

01:47

And then I have the person who is a bit like you're living in a dream world. And let me tell you all of the reasons why this is a completely ridiculous statement.

01:59

Now I want to be very real with you. 98% of people probably fall into the second category. And 2% of people genuinely choose to believe that everything is possible in the choosing to believe that everything is possible.

02:18

That is where the magic can happen for you. And you can start creating and living and attracting opportunities, people magic and miracles that honestly blow your mind. But it's very, very difficult to do that.

02:35

If you are the type of person who is always counting where they are limited, miracles and limitations do not live next to each other people who decide that infinite potential is a thing for them. Those are the people who have decided that there is always a workaround. These are the people who will find a solution to every problem that happens. It's the whether there's a way or as Marie Forleo would say everything is figureoutable when you come at life. From that perspective, nothing is going to hold you back forever.

03:15

And then finally, the thing that I want to say about making a decision to believe to know that infinite potential is a thing for you, and that you have infinite potential to create what it is that is in alignment with your True soul's desire. When you know this to be true, you can expand your vision like why wouldn't you you can think bigger when you know that everything is possible. And simply by choosing to think bigger, you create space for receiving more, and this is what we're here for. Right?

03:56

Yay. Okay, this is the end of this episode. I hope that you have enjoyed it. If you know somebody that you think would vibe with this, this is kind of what they're about or they need a little reminder that everything is possible then please share this episode with them and if you haven't done so already, just subscribe so you get notified as soon as the next one drops. Okay, you are amazing and I want you to remember that faith plus action = miracles.
