This is the Infinite Receiving Podcast, helping conscious leaders tap into a wealth of abundance across all areas of your life and business. I'm Susie Ashworth and I'll be sharing with you how you can upgrade your reality through quantum transformation. Because you are ready for infinite receiving.

Hello, hello, you gorgeous human being. It is Susie Ashworth here and you are listening to the Infinite Receiving podcast. I have got a quick oh, did you hear the way I said? I have got a quick and dirty one for you today. This is all about one of the universal laws, the Law of Unseen Grace. This was a law that was introduced to me by Richard Rudd. I have mentioned him before. He is the creator of the Gene Keys, and he talks about this being one of the lesser known laws that precedes the Law of Attraction. And again, it created a really great breakthrough for me, which I desire to share with you to either set the seed or have you just noodling on how this could be massively beneficial for you if you choose to look at the world through this lens.

Now, the Law of Unseen Grace says that you will always get what you need, which might not always be what you want. And I added just a couple of words to this that really helped it land for me even more profoundly. And that is you will always get what you need for your spiritual growth or personal development, but you might not always get what you want. And this is why when we are working with the Law of Attraction, sometimes it feels like, hang on a minute, I didn't ask for this. This is not what I wanted. And it's because this law becomes first and will always be in alignment with where you are energetically. And so I have a incredible client, dr. Sarah Madigan. She is the mistress and maven of joy.

She has a annual in fact, I think it's biannual challenge that she runs called From BS to Bliss. And one of the questions that I have heard her ask a million and one times since I have worked with her is how can this be perfect? How can this be perfect for me? And that sentence, super useful tool for her. And it was something that I never felt called to use myself up until now because of this understanding of the Law of Unseen Grace. And it is super helpful when we fall into victim mode. Super helpful when your child, your inner child comes out and is a bit.

Like, well, it's not fair. Why are they doing this to me? Why don't you get me?

And when you notice that coming up, asking yourself the question, how is this perfect for my spiritual growth or personal development right now? Creates freedom. It has the capacity to turn really challenging situations where you feel like the world is happening to you as opposed to for you into a situation where you can first choose to accept, like accept what is, be present with what is and instead of fighting against it, be in acceptance. And it's in that acceptance and allowing. It doesn't dissolve the pain, it doesn't dissolve the frustration, but it creates a spaciousness for you to really tune into. What is the lesson here for me? What do I get to learn from this situation that is going to help me in my spiritual evolution, with my personal growth and development, with me becoming the person who I desire to be?

How does this situation help me? How is this absolutely perfect for what it is that I desire to know or for where it is I desire to go? So I want to leave you with just this today, the law of unseen grace. And if you know that this is helpful to you, let me know. Let me know your commitment to using this on a daily basis. Let me know how it helps you the next time you are feeling challenged, you are feeling victimized, you are feeling like life is unfair. Let me know how this changes things for you. I would love to hear your stories. And in the meantime, please remember that faith plus action equals miracles.
