00:49

Hello, hello you gorgeous human being. It is Susie Ashworth here and you are listening to the Infinite Receiving podcast. I am feeling fresh, I'm feeling alive, I'm feeling vibrant. I'm feeling deeply, deeply grateful. After the most incredible weekend at the quantum shift 2025, I have been absolutely feeling into the energy of this year and this year being a rocket ship year for me. And after that event, there is no doubt that that is what is in store for us this year. It was such a fantastic event. From a community perspective, I think that we put on a really great experience. And from a financial perspective, it was really positive. I think that we will be finishing up around the multiple six figure mark, maybe just over just under.

You have a couple of people who are still in the balance, but that is just absolutely amazing and it is amazing to be able to do that from a place of complete love and joy for what it is that I get to do. You know, I just, I feel so freaking lucky and I don't know whether I am going to release this to the public, but I am curious because one of the things that I shared at the event is my Elevated Live event formula which is going to live within the Quantum Leap, your life and business coaching certification. But if you are interested in just hearing about the Elevated Live Event formula. So specifically this is the formula that I have used since 2019, I think maybe 2018.

02:53

So three days, bring your people into the room, make your offer, create deep transformation, all of that jazz. If you're interested in finding out about that, just register your interest with the link that we have included with this podcast or go to susieashworth.com elevated it's just an interest list. You never know. You never know what I wanted to talk to you today about. And I will do a full breakdown of the event. I just need some time to calibrate at process and work out what all of my takeaways were. But one of the things that I taught on, not in huge detail but Something that just has really stuck with me. This event is just around the understanding.

03:48

And I didn't say it like this at the event at all, but when you break it down and you look at our cells of our body under a microscope, we are 99.9999999. There might be a few more nines percent space energy. So we're 0.01% matter. What we are seeing and what we are focusing our attention on in this world is the 0.0%. That's mind blowing to me. Like, this is not news. This is not news. And yet there is something about where I am on my journey in this lifetime right now that this is landing with me in such a different way and what it has done in all of the years I've heard this before. And what it is doing is it's opening the door even more widely to understanding more deeply what it means to live in this world of infinite possibilities.

05:03

What it means to increase your field of awareness so that you are no longer narrowing your focus in the belief that you have only option A or option B to choose from. Like, it almost makes me want to laugh out loud to think, oh my God, Suze, how much of your life have you lived? Like 99.9999-9999% of it living, looking at your options like it's option A or option B. And yes, I have definitely manifested some amazing things, but yet this level of understanding is just sitting more deeply within me. And from this deeper understanding of just how much is available to us and for us when we are able to tap into everything that lives beyond our five senses.

06:06

I am so excited about not just the potentials, but the infinite potential that is available for myself and all of my clients and everybody who is just connected to me as the commitment to not only being the most exquisite model for the embodiment of these teachings continues to become an even better teacher of these teachings. You know, there was a client today who had left me a voicemail and she was talking about one of her offers and how she felt nervous about putting the offer out because she wasn't sure that she was going to attract the right people and blah, blah. And my first response was to go back to her with something that really responded to the tactics and the strategy that she was asking me about. And then I was like, no, like that comes after.

07:06

But first, feel into the energy of how this question is being asked. This question is being asked from a very narrow viewpoint. And that narrow viewpoint that you are currently conflicted by sits as a direct match for the frequency of not enoughness, for the frequency of lack, for the frequency of fear. If I put this out here, then what if I attract the wrong person and da, da, da. And it's like, I need you to understand that before any email goes out. The energy that you're asking this question in is not a match for what it is that you desire, is not a match for somebody who is into their leadership and is ready to invest half a million dollars to work with you for a year. This is. This is not the frequency of that question.

08:04

And so I was reminded so quickly that if you have a problem, if you're trying to solve that problem from the same frequency that the problem was created in, you have no chance. And this is not me, this is Einstein that says this. You can't come up with a solution from the same level of awareness that the problem has created. And so if that is the case, you have to increase. You have to elevate your level of awareness. So how do you do that? You have to shift your energy. And this is what Joe Dispenser is talking about all of the time. You have to shift your energy. When you shift your energy, you're increasing your field of consciousness. You're elevating your field of consciousness. And from that elevated field of consciousness, what you're doing is increasing your awareness.

08:57

And as you increase your awareness, you become aware of other solutions, other possibilities for your problem. But even before you look for the solution, in that elevated state of consciousness, you get to decide, and this is the inverted commas, the manifestation piece in that, from that elevated state of consciousness, you get to decide that the answer to your problem is already there. And when I say that, you get to decide it's not even a decision. It's a remembrance. It's a remembrance that beyond our five senses, there is an infinite field of information. And in that infinite field of information lies lives infinite possibilities for every single problem that is ever going to arise in this world. And in that field of infinite possibilities are also the answers to every single problem that has ever already arisen. And it's remembering that you're connected to that.

10:04

And that connection comes beyond your five senses. And when I think about this, it's that gets me excited. It's that gets me kind of that fizzy feeling of how can this not be a rocket ship year? When your level of awareness is operating in that remembering so much more frequently than it has ever done in your entire life. And when I think about this, is part of this to do with going to Peru? Maybe because I was tapped into that field, I saw it, I felt it, I experienced it. And now with doing my meditations on a daily basis, I am tuning in. I'm tapping in to that frequency again without the plant medicine. And so I'm remembering.

10:56

And that doesn't mean that I haven't had many moments over the last month where I have got stressed because I've forgotten, I've got frustrated because things aren't going exactly the way that I want them to go to, but because I'm doing the work, I'm remembering that, oh, right, this is a problem. Okay, Change your energy, elevate your awareness. Understand that what it is that you want is already done. Understand that there's absolutely a solution. And can you be in gratitude for that solution now? Can you know that solution is already an outcome for you in some iteration of this lifetime now that is already in the quantum field now? Yeah, I can.

11:35

So when I go into that space of knowing that it is done, and not from an intellectual level, but an actual physical, visceral level, what I'm doing is I'm becoming an energetic match for that solution. I'm becoming an energetic match. The me now is becoming an energetic match for the version of me who's already fucking locked and loaded this. And so then my job is to not just do it once, but just to see how many times can I stay in that frequency, how long can I maintain that frequency of knowing and of gratitude and of awe for how these miraculous decisions and solutions are going to be presented to me, make their way to me. This is absolutely the vibe.

12:20

It's remembering that when you are in this like head funky place and you're looking for the silver bullet, you're looking for the one answer. You are forgetting that you are the silver bullet. You are the answer. And when you are able to elevate your energy in remembrance of that, actually any tactic and any solution is going to be okay. Because your alignment to self and understanding that everything is always working out for you, that is the magic source. And so as my client was leaving this message, this is what I went back to. What is the energy of the leader who is attracting leaders who are a match for investing $500,000? Let's go into that place and then we talk tactics, then we can look at the strategy, then you can advise your team. Let's do you first.

13:19

And then everything else falls into place. So this is my invitation for you today, is to just look at what area of my life right now have I been struggling with. Am I playing this game of I need to get the right answer? Where is my focus? Very narrow. And I want you to think about where that focus has been. And then I want you to think about how it is that you are going to feel when that solution presents itself to you. And the game is to hold that frequency for as long as possible, keep coming back to that frequency for as long as possible. And from that elevated state of consciousness, you can be aware that there are going to be nudges.

There are going to be little thoughts that come in and you can follow those nudges because faith plus action is what creates the miracles. You can follow those nudges. You'll even have a different feeling about the things that you've already been looking at. And maybe there is a little nudge towards one of the things that you've been considering. And because you are going to then decide to move towards it from this elevated state of consciousness, irrespective of whether it's the right idea or not, you're going to get a completely different response. There's going to be completely different feedback. And from that feedback that you get, because whether that is the right answer for that moment in time or not, because you are still playing the game of it is done, it is done.

14:44

I am grateful, I'm excited, I am happy, I am joyful, I am jubilant. Because you're going to get the feedback in that energy again. The way that you respond to that feedback is going to be wildly different than if you come at it from this place of lack, needing, wanting and then frustration. If it doesn't look exactly the way that you thought it was going to look when you started taking the action, this is the game for the week. I hope that you love it and I would love to hear your feedback if you use it and just hear about the outcomes that you get.

15:21

So this is the vibe and if you desire to just be kept in the loop about whether we're going to bring the elevated live event formula to the general public, then please go to susieashworth.com forward/empld to be put on the in the know list. Right? I love you. You're amazing. If you have enjoyed this episode, then I really invite you to share this with at least person.
